CHILDRENSWEAR

JUNE 2010

19 Wonder! stores in five years and up to 120 stores nationwide. Sears Holdings is sub-leasing the property for the first store.

Netherlands-based Mutsy introduces the Easyrider, the company's lightest weight stroller at just 14 pounds, a stylish, easy to use basic stroller perfect for travelling and everyday use. Features small swivel wheels at the front with a unique suspension system to help get over curbs or bumps. The back wheels of the stroller are also provided with suspensions for added maneuverability. Suitable for ages three months and up. The company's Easygrow, the high chair that grows with baby, debuts Next, featuring a sleek brushed aluminum finish and unique dinner tray tilting feature that lets the tray fold down and away from baby. All available now. Mutsy.com.

Poly & Twigg co-owner Chris Vea grew tired of zipper, elastic and clip-on ties. So he and other owner Arlene Mejia created a new spin on a classic by introducing the exclusive, one-of-a-kind, patent-pending Slip Knot Ties. Fold the necktie in half, slip it through the knot and adjust it to fit after you snap the slipknot closed. Machine washable. The company mission is to fill the gap between fashionable and affordable, offering boutique quality at a price point just above bargain stores. Slip Knot Ties is the debut product from their upcoming collections of suspenders, hats, beanies and scarves. PolyandTwigg.com.

Baby Elephant Ears makes multifunctional head and neck support pillows for babies. The products get their name from their unique shape which resembles elephant ears. These pillows keep baby's head, neck and spine perfectly aligned in the stroller,
