DISCOVER YOUR BEST DAY

Add up the numbers for each of your answers (for example, if you circled option 1, give yourself 1 point). Then read below to find out what you'll most enjoy with baby, plus which gear will help make it a success!

If you scored
5 or less
YOU'RE STRUCTURED AND SOCIAL

Structured events appeal to your organized nature. You're also very social and even a bit of a negotiator. Food festivals and flea markets engage all your skills and passions at once.

▲ This organizer keeps track of six baby items, so you'll spend less time finding gear and have more time to shop! It's also machine washable, dryer safe, and adjustable.
Hold It Baby Toy Organizer, holditbaby.com, $30

See p. 6

▲ You and baby can stroll the food stands and troll for one-of-a-kind treasures easily with an umbrella stroller.
Muttsy Easyrider, $169, muttsy.com

If you scored
6 to 9
YOU'RE CREATIVE
AND ARTSY

You're sensitive, kind, even a little quietly serious. To maintain that Zen—and feed your creativity—look for fun activities that have flair. An easy nature walk or a day at the museum will feed your imagination and free spirit. (Plus, museums are great for escaping the heat or a summer downpour!)

▲ The only carrier to feature both leg support and head protection for babies and toddlers, and it carries up to 45 pounds (aka the average 4 year old). Baby can ride in front or back, too.
Boba 20 Baby Carrier in Aspen, $116, bobababycarrier.com

▲ Use these handy, lightweight swaddles for everything—shielding baby from the sun, a cover-up while you nurse, lining the restroom changing table, even a soft, clean place to sit outdoors.
Aden + Anais Twinkle Pink Swaddle Single, $20, adenandanais.com

If you scored
10 to 13
YOU'RE LAIDBACK
AND FUN-LOVING

Why fret over making plans? Spontaneity agrees with you, and so do pleasurable pursuits like picnics in the park or hanging out on the beach. These items will help when you do head out for a lazy day.

WIN IT!
See p. 6

▲ Wherever you go, protect baby from the sun's harmful rays with this umbrella he can play, eat, and even sleep under.
SKLZ Sport-Brella, $70, sklz.com

▲ This spacious, water-resistant blanket features an insulated cooler bag (there's even room for a few room essentials).
Skip Hop Central Park Outdoor Blanket + Cooler Bag in Chocolate/Uptown Stripe, $45, skiphop.com

If you scored
14 or more
YOU'RE SPORTY
AND ACTIVE

A friendly and adaptable "doer," your best day is packed with immediate results and fast-paced fun. High-octane activities are best for you, like a power hike or a daylong bike trip.

▲ A sport utility stroller handles the terrain so you can test your endurance. This one's three 16" knobby tires can take on anything from sandy beach strolls to wooded runs while giving baby a comfy ride.
BOB Sport Utility Stroller in Pacific Blue, $299, letsgotrolling.com

▲ This eco-friendly, functional bag, made of recycled plastic water bottles, is perfect for carting baby's food and diapers (or anything else) on your bike.
ChicoBag DayPack 20 rePETE, $20, chicobag.com
